
Cleveland International Auto Show Meeting

The Role of HIL (Hardware-In-the-Loop) Simulation in Testing Ford's Autonomous Vehicle Platform

Monday, February 25th, 2019

1 I-X Center Drive Cleveland, OH 44135

Join SAE Cleveland and Cleveland IEEE in the Grand Ballroom at the IX Center as we get a glimpse into one of the ways Ford is preparing for the future of automotive technology with Research Engineer, Adit Joshi. Mr. Joshi and his team are using detailed simulations as a way to increase testing "miles" as Ford looks towards SAE Level 4 autonomy.

Parking, a catered dinner, the presentation and a ticket to the Auto Show, which can be used Monday night or any day following, are all included with your registration.
